6 Killed, 130 Hurt As Train Overturns Near Bowie Track

Flood Threat Considered By Governor

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. David L. Lawrence took official cognizance Thursday of the potential threat of spring floods to Pennsylvania resulting from the abnormal snowfall and cold.

The governor made clear he was not sounding an alarm. But he informed his news conference, held primarily for radio and television representatives, that he had called a meeting later in the day to discuss the subject.

Richard Gerstell, state director of civil defense, was present at the conference. Lawrence said he was meeting later with the defense council "and we shall at that time discuss ways to make certain that all commonwealth departments and agencies are prepared to take prompt action to protect life and property, should subsequent developments demand it."

Lawrence drew on his memory of other floods and went all the way back to 1936 for a parallel of present conditions. In that earlier year, which brought on disastrous floods in the big rivers of Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia, Lawrence said a vast accumulation of snow melted quickly under spring sunshine starting on St. Patrick's Day.

The same elements have set the stage now, he indicated, with the equivalent of two inches of rainfall on the ground in the form of overlays of snow. This, however, does not mean floods are inevitable, especially if the thaw and run-off are gradual.

The situation, Lawrence said, "does not augur an immediate crisis."

Pennsylvania has had no major spring flood since 1936. There have been serious localized floods on most of the central and western watersheds from year to year.

AN internationally known heart specialist, who had spoken in Monroe County several times, died Wednesday night at his home in Cynwyd, a Philadelphia suburb.

He was Dr. Robert P. Glover, 47, founder of the Cardiovascular Research Foundation and the Glover Clinic for thoracic and cardiovascular diseases.

Dr. Glover had spoken at a meeting of the Woman's Club of the Stroudsburgs and at seminars conducted by the Monroe County Heart Assn. in recent years.

Death followed an illness of six months. Dr. Glover established the cardiovascular research laboratory at Presbyterian Hospital, Philadelphia, in 1953 and had directed its heart research program for the last seven years.

You CAN Get Better Grades—V Studying Literary Works And Foreign Languages

By Leslie J. Nason, Ed.D., with Harry Karns

NOW LET'S talk about how to read literary works and foreign languages.

Literature is written to entertain. It seems a shame to take it out of the field of entertainment and place it under the head of Scholarship—with a capital S. But that is what comma-hunting English professors have done with it.

Since this is the situation, it only makes good sense to put some system into the analytical reading of literary works. You can at least enjoy making a good grade.

To satisfy an English professor's exacting requirements, you must think of a great deal more than merely how good the story is. Here are some questions to ask yourself when you are read-

President Lists Plan To Revive Economy

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy—discussing that joblessness zoomed in January—Thursday unfolded a broad plan to "abate the waste and misery" of unemployment and revive the sputtering economy.

Saying some minor business improvement is expected this year, Kennedy told Congress further deterioration is possible "if we fail to act."

As might be expected, Republicans called Kennedy's special economic message unduly pessimistic while Democrats said Kennedy has spelled out the "New Frontiers" for a dynamic economy.

In his antirecession message to Congress, Kennedy asked swift action to boost Social Security benefits, raise the minimum wage, extend jobless payments on an emergency basis, and set up a program to help cure areas with chronic economic ailments.

The department, etc., 2nd graf 15

The department, in its first financing announcement since the Kennedy administration took office, said it will raise the money through an offering of 18-month notes paying 3 1/2 per cent interest.

The proceeds will be used to pay off an equal amount of 4 1/2 per cent Treasury Certificates which mature Feb. 15.

Undersecretary Robert V. Roosa told a news conference that the financing operation is designed to take into account "the state of the economy itself and the balance of payments" problem which has led to heavy sales of gold to foreigners.

For one thing, the department strayed from tradition in deciding to pay off the maturing certificates and replace them through a new issue to be offered for cash. With one exception, last August, the department normally has merely refinanced maturing issues by offering new securities in exchange for those coming due.

Seven Coaches Derailed On 11-Car Special

BOWIE, Md. (AP) — Six persons were killed and about 130 were injured Thursday when a special train carrying some 300 passengers derailed near Bowie Race Course.

Rescue workers searched the seven battered and tilted coaches until darkness covered the southern Maryland countryside, without finding additional victims. The dead included five passengers and a dining car waiter.

A spokesman for the Pennsylvania Railroad said one coach, in which a seventh body was believed to have been trapped, was thoroughly searched and no body was found.

The coach will not be moved until Friday but the spokesman said authorities were reasonably certain no more victims would be found.

Started In Philly
The 11-car train originated in Philadelphia and picked up additional passengers at five stops along the way.

The crash occurred about three miles from the race track, at a point where the train leaves the main line and enters a spur track to the left side.

More than 90 persons were treated at nine hospitals in the Baltimore-Washington area and another 40 were treated by the race track physician.

The railroad said the dead were: Daniel J. Belancio, 1428 South Penn St., Philadelphia.

Benjamin A. Good, Lancaster, Pa.

Robert B. Seldomridge, Lancaster, Pa.

Fred W. Cramer Jr., York, Pa.

Benjamin Grady, Spring City, Chester County, Pa.

Floyd Jones, Brooklyn, N.Y., a dining car waiter.

The engineer, Howard W. Horner, 62, of Camden, N.J., told state police his brakes failed to slow the train as it approached a cutoff leading to the race track some three miles away.

Horner said he was traveling at about 30 miles an hour when he tried to apply the brakes.

The two diesel engines pulling the train derailed and toppled on their side down an embankment between the main line and the spur. The next two coaches followed the engine and were tilted as they left the track.

The third, fourth and fifth coaches followed the spur and derailed but did not overturn. They were badly smashed and one had a gaping hole torn in its side.

The last two derailed coaches remained on the main line as did the four coaches which stayed on the rails. Two tracks of the three-track main line were torn up, but the other remained open and trains still were able to operate on it.

Fire At Track
The train was carrying passengers to Bowie, where a 48-day winter racing meet is in progress.

The card went ahead as scheduled, but the ninth and last race was called off because of a fire in an empty grandstand annex building at the head of the stretch.

The fire, which broke out during the eighth race, poured heavy smoke over the track and blocked visibility. The building, containing ticket windows, is used only on race days in which the crowd overflows from the main grandstand.

No one was hurt in the fire.

Cut Spending Edict
WASHINGTON (AP) — As one means of easing the drain on U. S. dollar reserves aboard, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara Thursday called on all military personnel and their families overseas to spend $80 less each this year.

Worthington Plant Move Denied

REPORTS that Worthington Mower Co. was closing its plant in Stroudsburg and moving all operations to Racine, Wis., were denied last night by H. G. Sanborn Jr., local manager.

He said one phase of the plant's operations is being transferred to Racine and 22 employees are being furloughed. The job has accounted for about 10 per cent of the local production for the last two years.

The remaining 90 per cent is being retained here, Sanborn said, and will provide continued employment for 110 persons at the Second St. plant. Not affected by the transfer order is the production of tractors, gang mowers and, to a lesser extent, electric golf carts.

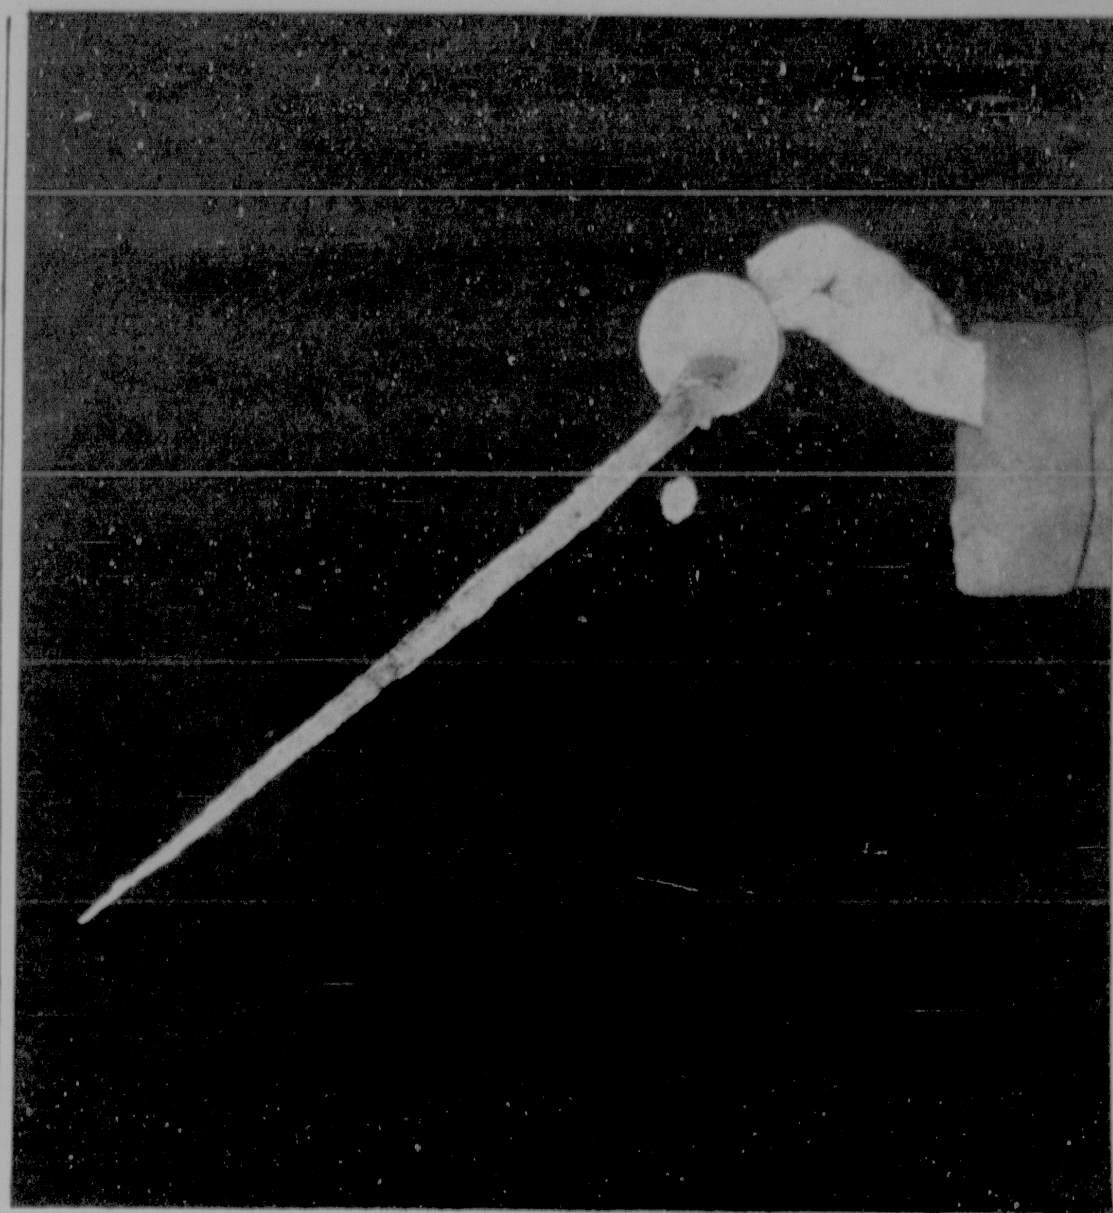

The work which no longer will be done here affects three models of heavy-duty mowers ranging in size to 48 inches, Sanborn explained. He said they were designed and developed here and had been in production for varying length of time up to two years.

The transfer was ordered by the management of Jacobsen Manufacturing Co., parent company of the Worthington concern, because of better facilities to produce the heavy job in Jacobsen's new 400,000-square-foot building at Racine.

Any speed-up in production schedules at the local plant would permit rehiring of some or all of the furloughed employees, Sanborn said.

For 1962 and 1963 our programs must aim at expanding American productive capacity at a rate that shows the world the vigor and vitality of a free economy.

"These are not merely fond hopes, they are realistic goals. We pledge and ask maximum effort for their attainment."

"BY JOVE, ICED TEA"—This being one of the coldest winters on record, we can say "cold enough to freeze an Englishman's tea." We are spoofing a bit in this picture, a three-foot icicle was frozen to a cup—tea bag and all. The tea did ice solid in 10 minutes in the near zero temperature last night. We wanted to illustrate the "Brisk" flavor.

Walter Proposes U.S. Compact With States On Basin

Special to The Daily Record

WASHINGTON — Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Easton) yesterday proposed that the United States enter into a compact with four states, Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey and Delaware, to foster the orderly development of the waters of the Delaware River Basin.

A similar request will be made by the eight Senators of the four states in the Senate.

It will mark the first time in the history of the Federal Government that the United States will enter a formal compact with individual states.

In the past the Federal Government merely has approved state compacts, but never has been a full party to a compact as proposed in Rep. Walter's bill, introduced yesterday in the House of Representatives.

"The Federal legislation," the Easton Congressman says, "has been prepared in the light of various studies made over the past 20 years of the Delaware River Basin resources. Working with the Federal government and state agencies in the studies was the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers."

The Federal legislation tentatively has been identified as The Walter-Clark Bill, named after two of its sponsors, Congressman Walter in the House and Senator Joseph S. Clark.

"The principal purpose of the compact," Rep. Walter explains, "is to create a regional administrative agency which shall act for and be responsible to the five signatory parties, the Federal Government and four states, in the planning, development and control of water resources of the Delaware River Basin."

"It will be governed by a five-member commission composed of the governors of the four states and one person appointed by the President of the United States," Rep. Walter reports. "Each member will be able to appoint an alternate with full power to act in the absence of the member."

Similar acts, according to Rep. Walter, will be entered in the various state legislatures within the next several days.

The principal duties and powers of the commission would be to formulate, adopt and keep current a comprehensive plan for the development of the water resources of the Delaware River basin and insure that all new projects or facilities having a substantial effect on the waters of the basin are carried out in conformance with the compact's plan.

Rep. Walter said, "That the sponsors of the various federal and state bills feel that such a compact could help plan, construct, operate and maintain dams, reservoirs and other facilities."

"I feel strongly that such planning would go a long way in reducing flood damage, improve water quality and provide a more adequate water supply for municipalities, industries and agriculture," Walter adds.

He also notes that there would be improved recreational facilities as well as better soil conservation, forestation and watershed management in the basin area with the four states and Federal Government working together.

Appropriations
"The compact may receive appropriations, grants or loans from federal or state governments," Rep. Walter explains. "And it can borrow money and issue revenue bonds. However, it can not pledge credit of signatory powers."

Although the commission has no taxing powers, it may make reasonable charges for products and services. Walter also points out that the proposal allows the commission to levy special assessments upon water users who receive specific benefits from stream flow regulations provided by the commission.

The duration of the compact shall be for an initial period of 100 years from its effective date.

Contract Awarded Thruway Section

THE STATE Highways Dept.

yesterday awarded a contract for a section of the Stroudsburg Thruway from Bartonsville to west of Tannersville to No. 1 Contracting Corp., West Pittston, on its bid of $2,526,785.67.

On Tuesday, the department awarded a contract for the section from Stroudsburg to Bartonsville to Marsolino Construction Co., Uniontown, at a bid price of $3,731,137.

The section awarded yesterday is 3.10 miles long in Pocono Township and will consist of reinforced concrete 24 feet wide on each side of an earth median barrier.

day includes four bridges spanning Pocono Creek.

The first section of the thruway has been completed and is currently in use. J. H. Beers, Inc., Richmond, is contractor for the next two sections, currently under construction and scheduled to be completed in July of this year.

The duration of the compact shall be for an initial period of 100 years from its effective date.

Groundhog Saw That It Was Cold

By DON ALLEN
Daily Record Reporter

GROUNDHOG DAY? Phooey on it. The day on which, as legend has it, our furry little neighbors decide whether we'll have six more weeks of Winter was just like any other in the past two weeks—cold.

Joe the Groundhog, or whatever his name may be, saw his shadow all right. And if that didn't scare him back into his hole, the temperatures should have.

For the 15th straight day yesterday, the mercury failed to get above the freezing level. And, again as usual, during the night it fell below zero.

Lowest Reported

Lowest unofficial temperature reported was minus 18 at Tannersville. Newfoundland had 15 below, Mt. Pocono 13 below and in downtown Stroudsburg the temperature dropped to 12 below zero.

As if that were not enough, the U. S. Weather Bureau at Allentown-Bethlehem-Easton Airport predicted more of the same for today. The forecast is for considerable cloudiness with snow possible by afternoon. Highest temperatures expected are in the upper teens.

Asked if there was any hope of the cold spell breaking up by the weekend, a Weather Bureau spokesman coolly replied: "No, I don't believe so."

That popular song of a few years ago—"Button Up Your Overcoat"—is going to be mighty good advice, it would seem.

Game Aide Downs Deer Kill Reports

HARRISBURG (AP) — A State Game Commission official Thursday declared there is no foundation for reports that large numbers of deer have been killed by the severe winter weather.

"All reports indicate the deer are in good condition, considering the severity of the weather," said Glenn L. Bowers, assistant executive director of the commission.

"There are very few reports of dead deer," he added.

Bowers pointed out that much of the state has been covered with snow since the middle of December, with bitter cold temperatures since the first of the year.

"We do anticipate that if the bad weather continues, we can expect some loss of deer," he said. "The conservation authority explained that some deer are lost each winter and said he was referring to higher than average losses."

You CAN Get Better Grades—V Try Thinking As A Foreigner

Before doing the things we have suggested here, we suggest that you do one preliminary thing: Read the book just for the fun of it.

Studying a modern language is something requiring still different techniques.

A lot depends on the way you prepare to study.

If the material to be read is part of an exercise in a textbook, it probably involves new vocabulary, foreign words you never saw before. You should study the vocabulary before trying to read the lesson.

But also a foreign language requires an entirely new point of view.

For real success you must quit thinking in English and think in that foreign language. Do not merely translate from the foreign language. If it's French, you must become a Frenchman; if German, a German; if Russian, a Russian—but do not fear, it is only make-believe, and you will not be investigated by a congressional committee.

Jane had trouble with high school French. She was able to do the daily translations but got low grades on tests. Her memory for vocabulary held water for two or three weeks at the most. Each assignment required endless reference to the French-English dictionary.

We suggested that she use the mental picture technique, try thinking in French, and attempt her reading in a new way:

1. She was to stop at the end of each page or paragraph and recite the meaning to herself.

2. If the first reading did not produce clear understanding, she was to glance through the material, picking out unfamiliar words.

3. She was to give each of these words the thorough thought process suggested for vocabulary study.

4. Then she was to read a second time for understanding.

5. At points where written translations were required, she was to translate without referring to previous work.

Jane tried it this way, with the excellent results you can

THOMAS D. Nabors Jr., 719 Bryant St., Stroudsburg, was admitted to practice in Monroe County Courts yesterday in ceremonies before Judge Fred W. Davis.

Nabors, 33, was sponsored by his father-in-law, Harold G. Edwards, Stroudsburg attorney. Nabors' wife is the former Barbara Edwards and the couple has one daughter.

The new attorney is a native of Pensacola, Fla., and received his bachelor of science degree from Georgia Institute of Technology before graduation from Dickinson School of Law.

During World War II, he served as a Navy pilot and is currently a lieutenant commander in the Naval Reserve, based at Willow Grove.

Valence Deer Feed Plan Head

BARRETT—John C. Valence was elected executive director of the Monroe County Feed the Deer program at a meeting last night in Onawa Lodge. More than 50 sportsmen attended.

County officers will be elected in the near future by the various sportsmen's associations in the county.

Residents of the area found themselves in the position of being on both sides of the controversial issue of feeding the deer. Some felt the program should be confined to just the Barrett area while others wanted to feed the animals in Monroe County.

"The original idea of Food for the Deer program suddenly became too big for their hands and the split occurred over personal opinions," a representative of The Daily Record was told. A film strip showing the work that has been done in and around the township was shown to the group.

Reports Eight Dead

An unidentified Barrett sportsman reported that five deer were found dead on the property of Herman Burgdorf, about three miles south of Canadensis on Route 290, and three more in the Canadensis area were found yesterday. The death of the animals was attributed to starvation.

Total money collected, as of last night with many canisters remaining out, was $70. The SPCA of Monroe County contributed $50, Nature Club of Stroudsburg $10 and a $10 check was received from an unidentified person in Salt Lake City, Utah.

The address for sending contributions remains Food for the Deer, Box 33, Canadensis.

Groundhog Predicts Weather

YESTERDAY was groundhog day. To celebrate the occasion, members of the Rawd of the Groundhog Lodge, Nummer Tzee (Groundhog Lodge, Number 10) of Stroudsburg, tricked out to the Hillside Stables where Howard Lininger furnished them with a team of horses hitched to a bob sled.

This was their means of transportation while searching for the elusive ground hog. Although they didn't find the little animal, the sun did shine and the ground hog sure saw his shadow if he ventured out of his hole. This means that winter isn't over yet, according to lodge members.

However, looking on the brighter side, the men noticed the lowered level of the hay in the Lininger barn, the diminishing woodpile—all signs that winter is drawing to a close.

Basing their opinions on facts as they found them, the prediction of the Rawd is that Feb. 4 to 7 will be clear, turning stormy and wet. Beginning about Feb. 8 the weather will be clear and cooler and by the 15th of the month will be unsettled and blustery, then fair and milder, ending up with stormy weather by the last of February.

The members of the Rawd who took part in the search were Dr. Floyd W. Shafer, Habtman (President), Russell W. Kern, J. M. Kopenhaver, James Gould, Lester C. Rice, Theodore R. Henning, Victor H. Henning and Joseph E. Altomose.

Other members of the Rawd not present were Rev. Charles Ruloff, Rev. William F. Wunder, Dr. David G. Peiffer, Lester Miller and Harold Waidelich.

The annual banquet of the Groundhog Lodge will be held on April 6 at the American Legion Home in East Stroudsburg.

Eldred To Decide On Rejoining PV

ELDRED Township school board will meet Wednesday, Feb. 15, at 8 p.m. in the Eldred Township Elementary School to decide if they will rejoin the Pleasant Valley Jointure.

Supervising Principal of Pleasant Valley Joint School John Mills has presented a five-page analysis of what it would cost to become a part owner of the $1,520,000 junior-senior high school and/or a member of the jointure.

Mills said, "It will probably be two and a half mills more expensive in real estate tax for Eldred to be a part owner of the jointure than it will be to send grades seven through 12 to the jointure high school on a tuition basis."

"But for that extra millage, Eldred would become part owner of the new junior-senior high school."

The alternatives the Eldred board will have to make their decision on are:

1. Send grades seven through 12 to the jointure on a tuition basis. For 1960-61 this would have meant a real estate tax of 46 mills for the township.

2. Join the jointure. For this year, the real estate millage would have been 48 and a half to be a member of the jointure.

3. Continue the present policy of sending grades nine through 12 to the jointure on a tuition basis. The Eldred millage this year which includes this program is 32 mills.

4. Put the matter of rejoining the jointure on the ballot. This would require a series of public meetings to be held before the vote to acquit the voters with the issues involved in becoming a part of the jointure.

Royal Carpet Out

"There is more than a royal carpet put out for Eldred to come back into the jointure. In fact the rest of the jointure is absolutely opened armed for them," Mills said.

The jointure presently consists of Chestnut Hill, Polk and Ross Townships.

The original jointure, formed in 1957, was made up of Eldred, Chestnut Hill, Polk and Ross Townships but Eldred resigned from the jointure in 1958 following disagreements on the type of construction planned for the new school.

In May of the same year the entire board resigned and a new one appointed by the Monroe County Court.

The invitation to have Eldred rejoin the jointure is primarily aimed at the betterment of the children coming from the township into the new junior-senior high school.

Now that the new school has opened the educational facilities have become greatly increased. The seventh and eighth grade pupils coming from Chestnut Hill, Polk and Ross Townships now have the opportunity to study several subjects that were heretofore not presented until the first or second year in high school.

College Prep School

In addition to the added subjects a special section for college prep students has been formed. This puts the superior students in a separate group. With this addition to the program the opportunity for this group to advance at a more rapid rate is given.

Other facilities offered in the new school are industrial arts, band, physical education and hygiene. None of these are available to the pupils now attending Eldred Township Elementary School.

Mills added, "There are smart children in Eldred and should be in that college prep course from the seventh grade on. With the present setup they (the children) won't reach the jointure high school until the ninth grade."

"Then they will have to start from the beginning in algebra as an example, with other youngsters from the other townships who have already had one term of it," he continued.

"These are some of the educational factors the Eldred board is concerned about," said Mills.

Wise Words

In the flood of news about the new Administration, perhaps too little note has been taken of some important words written by Dwight D. Eisenhower in his last days in office.

And so we set them down here: "Government action is not the principle, let alone the sole, determinant of the rate of economic growth. In our competitive enterprise system, growth requires that productive job opportunities be created in private employment. "The creation of jobs, in turn, requires the presence of adequate incentives to private action and the availability of private capital and other needed resources, and it is heavily influenced by the state of demand, prices and costs, and the desires and interests of the people.

"The Federal Government promotes economic growth mainly by the contributions that it makes to conditions favorable to the exercise of private individual initiative and effort, and by facilitating and encouraging the execution of their various responsibilities by private individuals and groups, and by state and local governments."

One-Shot Safety Device

Governor Lawrence's plan to put Pennsylvania business taxes on more of a "pay as you go" plane is basically a "one shot" device, in that the principal advantage to the State accrues in one year only.

As an illustration, suppose that a worker were to make a permanent arrangement with his boss to get half a year's salary in advance each year. In the year in which the arrangement is made, the worker would receive a year and a half's pay—the pay for the current year plus half the pay for the next year.

Each year thereafter, however, the worker would find himself back in the same situation — almost — as before: drawing twelve months' pay in one year.

The qualifying "almost" is added because he is actually a little better off and his boss a little worse off. If the worker is thrifty, he will immediately invest his half year's salary and earn interest on it.

His boss sacrifices the interest he would otherwise make on the money he agreed to pay in advance; or perhaps has to pay interest on a loan to finance the arrangement.

The parallel is not exact, of course. The worker is drawing in advance; the State is merely moving toward current tax collections, but the mechanics are the same.

Even in the case of the State, the interest feature is not substantial. Business tax receipts last year were about $242,000,000. Assuming the State moves business tax collections forward by six months and gets three per cent return on its money, it would pick up an added $1.8 million. Business, again assuming a potential three per cent return, would forfeit a similar amount.

The device is not new. It is used by the Federal Government and the City of Philadelphia in withholding income and wage taxes.

Governor Leader, in 1957, to solve some of his fiscal headaches, got the Legislature to accelerate corporate net income tax collections by 50 per cent — requiring half the taxes due on current year's estimated business to be paid in the current year.

It is a safety valve which can either be used or held in reserve to meet a temporary emergency fiscal situation. Perhaps the current situation merits its use this year.

Reactionaries

Conservatives are persons who believe that the progress of mankind must be within the margins of historic memory. Conservatives regard Liberals, in this century, as persons whose judgment permits them to run wild, to take unscreened actions upon impulses.

A Reactionary, on the other hand, is a person who resists change as adamantly as a Liberal welcomes change. The Conservative achieves more than the Liberal because his thinking is within national traditional margins.

The Reactionary is destructive because he ignores all new factors in a situation; he lives in the past as though nothing has happened since some date which he fixed in his mind. In politics such a person may accept the period of Mark Hanna as the most suitable for the United States or in morals, the era of Cotton Mather as preferable.

He very often rejects statistical data as not affecting his point of view. He insists that he possesses an unbreakable code of life. Nevertheless, he does not wear a Prince Albert coat of the 1890's or a stock of the early 1900's nor does his wife wear her hair a la Brunehilde in a thick long braid wound around her skull.

The Reactionary does recognize fashion but cannot adjust to change. He believes in genealogy as a guide to character despite all the investigations that have been done in the psychology of inherited characteristics. The Conservative, like the Liberal, looks at all that comes up, but he screens current data through the sieve of universal experience, whereas the Liberal all too often accepts the new as virtuous because it is new and different.

One says that a doctor is conservative who waits until something is proven about the side effects of a remedy. A doctor who is not conservative reads the attractive catalogue and experiments on his patients.

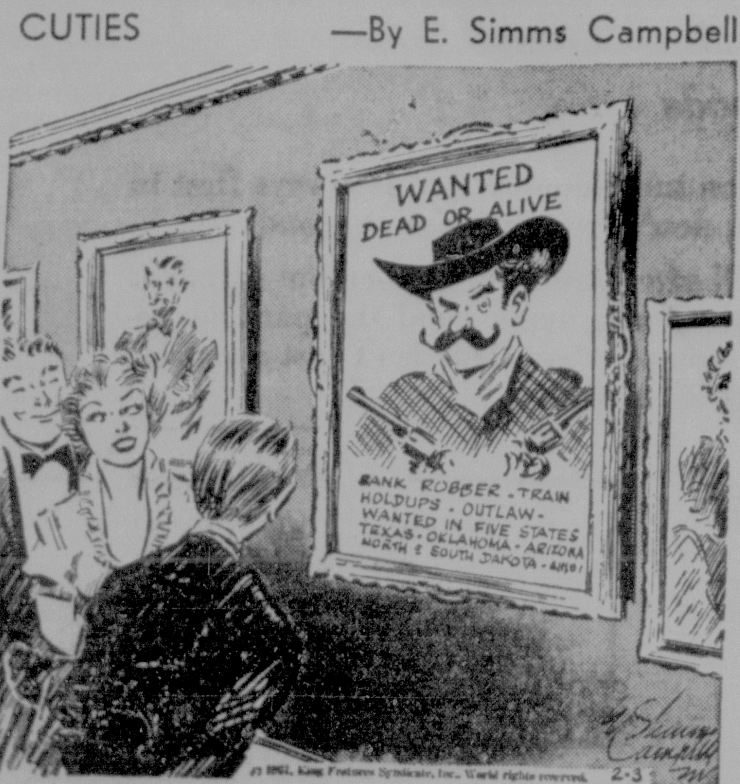

The reactionary doctor says it is all bunk because it was not taught in his day in college. Some persons stop learning anything, except by experience, the day they get a cap and gown. The Conservative in economics has an enormous respect for the hardness of money, recognizing that those nations which permitted their currencies to go soft and stay soft too long collapse politically and disappear from history.

Second Big Push

By Mason Denison
Harrisburg — When administration Democrats this week made their second "big push" in as many weeks on their tax program for Keystone State taxpayers, they once again pulled out just about every available stop — especially on the two cents a gallon increase in Pennsylvania's gasoline tax.

Item. The very day the gas tax proposal was finally approved in the House of Representatives last week, the stage was set immediately for the "big push" in the even split State Senate . . . That day the Department of Highways issued a detailed mimeographed breakdown of the state showing how each county would benefit from the tax increase in direct payment to counties under the "Home Rule Act" (Act 655).

At present this amounts to $30,000,000 annually . . . Under the two cents a gallon increase this would be upped an additional 20 per cent of the yield of one cent of the increase for redistribution to cities, townships and boroughs by the counties.

Item. Also as the big push got under way this week, to hammer through the Senate the administration's two cents a gallon increase, another pronouncement was issued by the Department of Highways — this time showing the "obsolete bridge replacement" needs in each county, including the proposed expenditure by county "if" the gas tax increase becomes a reality.

Statistics were imposing . . . Since 1939 some $9 million has been spent on replacing obsolete bridges, nearly $8 million has been earmarked for replacements and now "under construction" — with some $31 million needed to cover replacements now in the design stage.

It's only part of the picture but it illustrates the thoroughgoing manner adopted by the administration to show its needs and how it proposes spending the additional monies!

Statistical Mumble-Jumble — Statistics are great things — depending of course on how you look at it, or how you interpret them . . . Some statistics show depression . . . Other statistics show prosperity . . . Here's a set that illustrates the point:

This week the State Department of Labor and Industry issued a report on building operations in Pennsylvania during the month of December . . . The report starts out this way: "Building construction in Pennsylvania was off 14.6 per cent in December 1960 from the previous month but the decline was less than it had been in December for several years. The slow drop-off increased the possibility that 1960 may have been the best building year in the state since 1955."

"Preliminary figures indicate 1960's building activity was four per cent higher than 1959."

At first blush that doesn't sound too bad — construction employment seemed to be up pretty well last year ("best building year in the state since 1955") . . . However — a half-dozen sentences later in the report there appears this departmental observation: "munities cooperating in furnishing the state figures was four to seven per cent higher in 1960 than in previous years. Based on the reports of 545 identical communities which have reported since 1957, the dollar volume was down 4.3 per cent from 1959."

The key: the 1960 figures are based on reports received from 684 "permit issuing communities" . . . Obviously with more communities reporting there are going to be more building permits recorded — and a greater dollar volume recorded!

The point to be made: in one sentence the report speaks of building activity being "four per cent higher than 1959" (based on 684 communities reporting) while a few sentences later the report refers to the volume as being "down 4.3 per cent from 1959" (but based on 545 communities reporting) . . . Or in other words — take your choice! Are we up or down? . . . Is there "prosperity" in this field — or isn't there?

Slept in the subway for a couple of days, she did, until some chorines chipped in to pay her fare back to the Coast where she spoiled it all again by in-sulting producer George Cukor. But her most famous exploit was the time she phoned Ida Lupino, using Bette Davis' voice, and told her the city was shutting off the water and to fill the tub, and then phoned Bette using Ida's voice with the same story, and before the afternoon was over, all Hollywood had its tubs filled with water awaiting the drought . . . ### The Allen-Scott Report

By Robert S. Allen and Paul Scott

Washington — Sen. Barry Goldwater, who is already basily thinking in terms of the 1964 presidential nomination, is energetically trying to name a new chairman of the Republican National Committee . . . the kind of dynamic Arizona strongly feels should now be filling this key party job.

His choice is Ohio Chairman Ray Bliss, who carried that state for the Nixon-Lodge ticket

By more than 200,000 — among the foremost GOP victories. Potentially supporting Goldwater in the backstage drive to make Bliss national chairman is Charles White, Cleveland, multi-millionaire head of Republic Steel and one of the party's biggest fund raisers.

But Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, who also is keenly interested in the 1964 presidential fray, is emphatically opposed to this plan.

The New Yorker is entirely content with National Chairman Thruston Morton, sees no reason why he should be replaced, and is determined to retain the Kentucky senator as long as he wants to remain.

So far as Morton is concerned, that is indefinitely.

Congressional Quiz

Water is now the Nation's most critical conservation problem — one that threatens serious consequences unless some relief is found. What do you know about the country's existing and potential water supplies? Try for five correct answers.

Q — The Nation's annual rainfall is about 30 inches. Of this, the country puts to use (a) 3 inches; (b) 10 inches; (c) 20 inches?

A — (a). Twenty-one inches of the annual rainfall is unavailable for use because of evaporation. Of the remaining nine inches, six sink into the ground or run off to the ocean without being used.

Q — Currently the United States uses about 350 billion gallons of water each day. The predicted daily consumption for 1980 is (a) 300 billion gallons; (b) 600 billion; (c) 950 billion.

A — (b). Experts agree it will be necessary to improve greatly management of the Nation's water in order to meet this demand.

Q — The use of water is divided into three main categories. Two of them are industry and public. Can you name the third?

A — Irrigation. About 30.5 million acres in the United States, mostly in the West, are currently under irrigation.

Q — True or false, A vast new supply of fresh water is available by converting saline water?

A — True. The cost of converting saline water is now about $1 per 1,000 gallons — three to four times the usual cost of water. Current research, however, indicates the conversion cost can be cut to about 30 cents per 1,000 gallons.

Q — Clouds carry much water that is never dropped over land. If rain could be forced at the right time and the right place, it would relieve many critical situations. The process of causing artificial precipitation generally is called (a) rain witchcraft; (b) atmosphere bombardment; (c) cloud seeding?

A — (c). Cloud seeding is done either from ground generators or aircraft.

Q — The multi-purpose dam generally is considered the most practical approach to water development and conservation. Basically, it means building a dam across a large river and getting multiple results. One of these would be a reservoir. Can you name others?

A — Flood control, recreation facilities, hydro-electric production.

Q — One of the best examples of multi-purpose dam development in the United States is TVA. What is TVA?

A — Tennessee Valley Authority. TVA's 20 dams can store 22 million acre-feet of water and an additional 12 million acre-feet during floods. Its hydroelectric and steam power plants have a 10.3 million kilowatt capacity.

Q — My employer tells me he will have to lay me off in March when I become 65 years old. How many quarters of coverage will I need to be Eligible for a social security benefit?

A. Workers who reach retirement age in 1961 can qualify for old-age benefits with as few as 13 quarters of coverage. Quarters do not have to be consecutive. Retirement age is 62 for women and 65 for men.

A — True. The cost of converting saline water is now about $1 per 1,000 gallons — three to four times the usual cost of water. Current research, however, indicates the conversion cost can be cut to about 30 cents per 1,000 gallons.

Q — Clouds carry much water that is never dropped over land. If rain could be forced at the right time and the right place, it would relieve many critical situations. The process of causing artificial precipitation generally is called (a) rain witchcraft; (b) atmosphere bombardment; (c) cloud seeding?

A — (c). Cloud seeding is done either from ground generators or aircraft.

Q — The multi-purpose dam generally is considered the most practical approach to water development and conservation. Basically, it means building a dam across a large river and getting multiple results. One of these would be a reservoir. Can you name others?

A — Flood control, recreation facilities, hydro-electric production.

Q — One of the best examples of multi-purpose dam development in the United States is TVA. What is TVA?

A — Tennessee Valley Authority. TVA's 20 dams can store 22 million acre-feet of water and an additional 12 million acre-feet during floods. Its hydroelectric and steam power plants have a 10.3 million kilowatt capacity.

Q — My employer tells me he will have to lay me off in March when I become 65 years old. How many quarters of coverage will I need to be Eligible for a social security benefit?

A. Workers who reach retirement age in 1961 can qualify for old-age benefits with as few as 13 quarters of coverage. Quarters do not have to be consecutive. Retirement age is 62 for women and 65 for men.

Meyer To Resign ESSC Post; Wildrick Will Be Successor

DR. NATHAN G. Meyer is resigning as Director of Student Teaching and Placement at East Stroudsburg State College after a career in education which has covered the full range from a rural one-room school to the space-age emphasis on education.

His position will be filled by Dr. John R. Wildrick, who has worked under him as supervisor of student teaching since 1949. Dr. Meyer has been a member of the college faculty for 17 years, joining the staff after 14 years as assistant Superintendent of Monroe County Schools. During his 31 years of service to education in Monroe County, he has played a large part not only in education but in community affairs.

As assistant County Superintendent of schools, he established the first Junior Historical Societies in the high schools with ten groups active during his administration. He also actively promoted and directed the Forensic and Music League activities of the high schools for six years and inaugurated Junior Red Cross chapters in the school.

At the college, he served as sixth grade supervisor in the Laboratory school, headed the Department of Education for six years and has held his present position coordinating the student teaching and placement service for eight and a half years.

Historical Society Head
In community activities, he was president of the Monroe County Historical Society for three years; and served as coordinator of many groups including the Merit Badge Counselors Seminar of the Delaware Valley Council; the Elementary Teacher Workshops in 11 Summers at the college; and the Professional Practicum for Student Teachers.

A graduate of Elizabethtown College with a bachelor of arts degree, Dr. Meyer earned his masters in Administration and Supervision at Teachers College, Columbia University; and his doctor of education degree at New York University. He is a member of Phi Delta Kappa; a life member of the National Education Assn.; president of the Eastern Region of the Pennsylvania Assn. for Student Teaching and a member of the College Branch PSEA.

Travel And Write
In his early and volunteer retirement, Dr. Meyer plans to spend the time in travel, writing and perhaps some college teaching. In the field of writing he has written articles for the NEA Journal and other professional magazines, as well as three books, "Orientation in Student Teaching," "Orientation in Teacher Placement" and "A History of the Activities of the Monroe County Chapter of the American Red Cross During World War II."

In retiring at this particular time, Dr. Meyer noted that the student teachers have been assigned for the Spring semester and that in taking over now, Dr. Wildrick will have time to plan the Elementary Teachers Workshop scheduled during the Summer. Dr. and Mrs. Meyer, who live at 205 Analamink St., East Stroudsburg, plan to spend the Spring semester in travel, first in the United States and then in Hawaii.

In taking over his duties, Dr. Wildrick will be coordinating the activities of some 345 co-operating teachers in as many as 105 different schools. This semester, student teachers are having practical work in 32 schools, and about 300 student teachers are assigned each year. The college Placement Service is another important function of the position, which also includes directing the Campus Laboratory School.

Dr. Wildrick, who has had experience in supervising student teaching at the college on both the elementary and secondary level, is himself a graduate of East Stroudsburg State College. He earned his master of arts degree and his doctor of education degree at New York University.

He is a member of Kappa Delta Pi and Phi Delta Kappa honorary societies in education, and is currently vice president of the Pennsylvania Assn. for Student Teaching.

E-burg Jr. High
He began his teaching career at East Stroudsburg Junior School and served as principal of the Portland Public School before joining the college faculty. He is author of "A Manual of Local Government in Monroe County" used for many years in the civics classes in the county schools.

Married to the former Dorothy Jane Linton, of Hale, Mo., they live in Portland where Dr. Wildrick is a member of the Borough Council and a director in its community Ambulance Corps. They have three children: John, Linton, and Donna.

Girl Scout Cookie Sale Opens In County

There are enough Girl Scout cookies on hand for every person in Monroe County to have a couple and more than 900 Girl Scouts serving as salesmen to be sure they do.

The annual Girl Scout cookie sale opened on Wednesday and will continue through the month of February. A total of 18,200 boxes of cookies are on hand to be sold.

All the profits from the sale of cookies is used locally, either for troop activities or to increase camping facilities. For each box of cookies a Girl Scout sells, her troop receives seven cents for the troop treasury for trips, equipment or for other use to which the troop wishes to put it.

The remaining profits go to the County Council for capital improvements. The Monroe County Girl Scout Council is a Red Feather Agency of the Community Chest from whom it receives money for operating expenses. With the permission of the Chest, it has two fund-raising projects each year for capital improvement: The calendar and cookie sales.

The Council provides camping at two sites in Monroe County: One owned by the Scouts at Camp Lloyd Treble, Shawnee-on-Delaware, and the other loaned to the Scouts at Camp Appenzell in Tannersville.

Theme of the cookie sale is "Think of the Good You Do When You Buy Girl Scout Cookies."

Mrs. Elwood German is county cookie chairman. This year there are five varieties of cookies for sale, she announced. They will be sold in the five neighborhood divisions. In the Barrett Neighborhood, Mrs. Lucille Bridge is cookie chairman; in East Stroudsburg, Mrs. Egan Reese. In the Hamilton Neighborhood, Mrs. Betty Feitig is cookie chairman and in the Mountain Neighborhood, Mrs. Gilbert Scharf. Mrs. German is handling the cookies for the Stroudsburg Neighborhood as well as serving as county chairman.

Heart Charms For Heart Twins At White House

By FRANCES LEWINE
Washington (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy ushered two little blonde girls — the Heart Fund twins — into the White House spotlight Wednesday to launch a month-long fund-raising campaign of the American Heart Association.

It was the new First Lady's first venture in promoting such a drive. With a smile, she told reporters and cameramen: "It's a great pleasure to meet the Heart Fund twins, Debbie and Donna, and to participate in this great Heart Fund campaign to fight heart diseases."

Mrs. Kennedy posed with the twins, 6 years old, children of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Horst of Elkins Park, Pa., in the diplomatic reception room at the White House.

She added a new touch of her own by giving the blue-eyed little girls — survivors of identical heart operations at the Germantown, Pa. Hospital — tiny gold hearts "with your name and mine on it — for your charm bracelets."

The tiny charms carried the first name of each twin, the date, and the first lady's initials "J. B. K."

Present at the ceremony, which annually gives an official White House boost to the February heart campaign, were Dr. Oglesby Paul of Chicago, president of the American Heart Association, and L. J. Laidlaw, chairman of the 1961 Heart Fund campaign.

"More decorations than Christmas" . . . that's the way Bob Hoffman, head of our Sears advertising department, put it last week when he sat in my office recounting the details of the 75th Anniversary celebration which begins today. "The colors will be Jubilee Blue and White, and there will be Diamond Jubilee Dividends for our customers in the form of terrific savings. It's really going to be a great thing."

Bob's enthusiasm was catching, and I was particularly interested in the applesauce cake that Sears is using as its official Birthday Cake. The recipe is an old one, Bob says, and I believe he told me copies, along with a piece of cake, will be distributed to those attending tonight's Open House.

As I type these details on Wednesday afternoon, I'm still not completely versed on the details of Sears' celebration. I do know, however, that the values, according to Bob, are even greater than those offered in the big Sears sale catalogue. This being true, I can certainly encourage thrifty shoppers to visit our Sears departments, and also make good use of our very efficient Sears catalogue order desk.

Bob will be on the air with me this morning to encourage all of you to attend Open House this evening . . . and you may have heard him discuss merchandise on Thursday morning's program. Whether or not you did, be sure to see Sears' ads . . . and stop in for a piece of Jubilee Anniversary Cake. Through the years the Sears store has been a good friend consistently to thousands of people, many of whom have thus found it possible to live with fine style and a touch of elegance on a modest budget. Many of my own home furnishings came from Sears, and gave me generous value for every dollar spent. This being the case, I cannot think of any customer who would refrain from joining a chorus of "Happy Birthday to you . . . Happy Birthday, Sears-Roebuck, Happy Birthday to you."

"I hear you've taken three tumblers in three days," Mr. Wyckoff chided me the other noon hour. "My goodness, I think you'd be ashamed to admit it. Aren't you big enough now to stand on your own two feet?"

I think he's correct. I'm not only BIG enough, but I'm more than willing. Having reached this conclusion, I allowed my own two feet to carry me down the stairway to our main floor, where I looked over the floral display in our gift department. The flowers that bloom just before spring here at Wyckoff's, are both real and artificial . . . I noticed there were some pretty chrysanthemums in the vases—genuine, of course. But my eye was taken by the tall stalks of artificial pink and white lilacs, priced at 50c each. Gloriously fake, they would do a great deal to brighten a dull corner during these cold, winter days. We also have tuberous begonias, very realistic in appearance, priced at 75c, I believe, and there are geraniums, primroses, bouquets of miniature lemon and orange, snapdragons, and hyacinths . . . a veritable garden of fresh, glowing color.

I noticed Marion Leedom has used the artificial geraniums in a most attractive way. Instead of potting them, she has cropped the stems of several, and submerged them in a very large snifter. She has also placed a small snifter with flowers inside a very large snifter, and the effect is lovely. "Whose idea was that?" I asked. And she said Bea Gorgy had passed it along to her after having seen the same idea in a private home. "In that case, however, the woman had a living plant in the smaller snifter," Marion said. It's a different use of a favorite decorative accessory, and charming. A gay mood lifter for a dull day!

Don January Sinks Ace May Collect $50,000

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer
PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Al Mengert of Phoenix, Ariz., took over the second round lead in the rich Palm Springs Golf Classic Thursday. But the most spectacular shot of the hazy afternoon was a hole-in-one that may mean $50,000 to Don January.

Mengert, 31-year-old former amateur star from Spokane, Wash., added a 65 to his first round of 68 for a 36-hole score of 133.

It was good for a one-stroke lead in this 90-hole, $50,000 classic over Art Wall Jr. and Bob Rosburg. Wall shot his second straight 67 and Rosburg, a co-leader in the first round with a 65, had a 69

Thursday. January, a 31-year-old pro from Dallas, got his first hole-in-one in 24 years of play when he sank an eight-iron shot on the 148-yard 15th hole at the Indian Wells Country Club.

With the help of the ace, January also got a 65 Thursday but his opening round of 76 left him eight strokes back of Mengert with a 141.

January, the son of a former professional golfer, began playing the game as soon as he could swing a stick in his former home town, Lampasas, Tex. He stands to collect the full $50,000 jackpot unless some other professional also scores an ace in the next three days. In this case the money will be split.

"I was just trying to shoot a good round" the 6-foot Texan said. "In fact, I was a little sore because I had just barely missed an eagle on the hole before."

"I didn't know the ball was in the cup until my partner saw it and pointed to it for me."

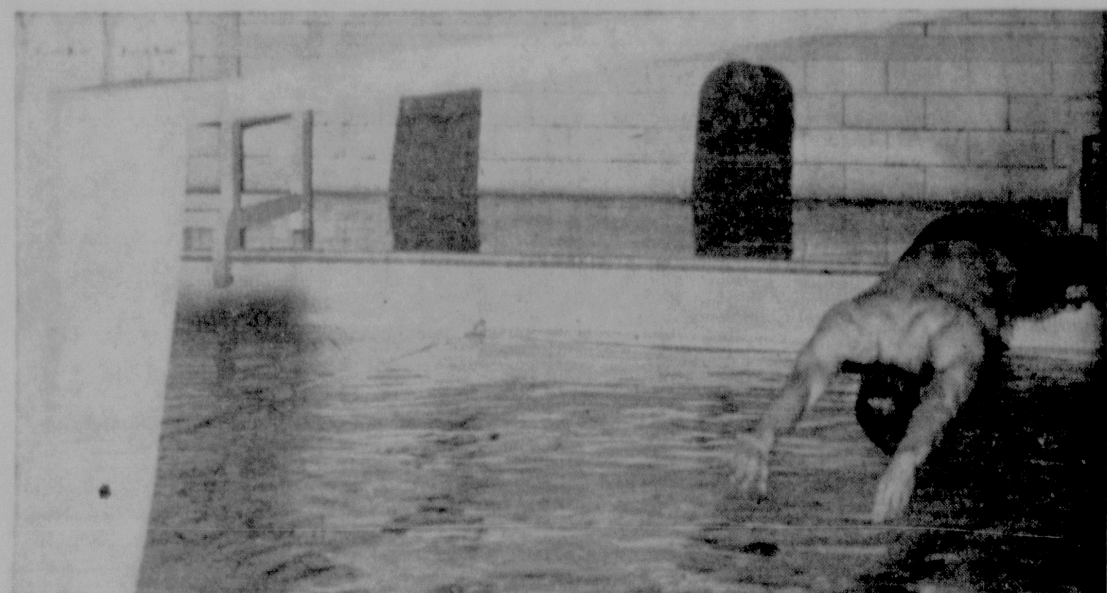

January said he has no deal to split the money and he intends to save it all, "except for what Uncle Sam takes," for his wife and two kiddies. Another child is due this summer.

Tied at 135 were Fred Hawkins, with a 68; Jay Hebert, 69; Dave Marr, 70, and big George Bayer with a spectacular 63, lowest round of the tournament so far. Ken Venturi, Eric Monti, Charles Sifford and Don Whitl were tied at 136.

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Leaders after the second round of the $50,000 Palm Springs Golf Classic included:

Al Mengert	68-65—133
Bob Rosburg	65-69—134
Art Wall Jr.	67-67—134
Fred Hawkins	67-68—135
Jay Hebert	66-69—135

ESSC Swimmers Win All Events To Splash Bloom

EAST Stroudsburg State College won every event, in handling Bloomsburg State a 66-29 swimming loss at Normal Hill last night.

So complete was the Warrior domination, that 16 of Bloom's points came in events where only one East Stroudsburg swimmer was entered.

Rick Lobs was the only double winner for the Warriors, who posted their fourth win in five meets. The only East Stroudsburg loss was against West Chester in the opener.

Lobs set a school record in individual medley. He swam the 200-yard distance in 2:27.4, breaking Roy Snyder's record of 2:34.1 set in 1957. Lobs also won the 200-yard breaststroke.

Dick Wolslayer captured the 100-yard freestyle in 57.7 seconds, edging Tom Young of Bloomsburg by several strokes. The Warriors' Dennis Pistoll, the only swimmer to hold a decision over Wolslayer this year was third. Wolslayer and Pistoll matched strokes for almost three and a half laps but when Wolslayer began to pull away, Young inched past Pistoll for second.

Wolslayer and Pistoll did not swim in the 50-yard freestyle, won by Gene Powers, whose father teaches at the college. Powers' time was 25.4.

The other individual Warrior winners were: Joe Varne, John Jacobbi, Bob Frain, Steve Roethke and Lee Gillette.

Full Loop Slate Of Hoop Games

EVERY area high school basketball is involved in league games tonight, as the schoolboy schedule heads into its final month.

Catasauqua is at Stroud Union in the Lehigh Valley League, while Parkland is at East Stroudsburg and Bangor entertains Nazareth in Lehigh-Northampton games. Honesdale is at Southern Wayne in the Wayne County League.

The Pocono Mountain Scholastic League finds Barrett at Delaware Valley, Tobyhanna Twp. at Pleasant Valley and Pocono Twp. at Coolbaugh.

Catasauqua, the defending loop champion, holds one decision over Stroud Union and after a slow start this year, is one of the favorites to win the second half crown. Catty knocked off first half champ Palmerton Tuesday.

Long Losing String
Stroud Union is riding a seven-game losing streak and is on the bottom of the eight-team loop. The Mounties have won three of them was a league affair.

East Stroudsburg, which snapped a 13-game losing streak Tuesday by beating Bangor, faces the league's first half champ and second half leader.

The Cavaliers have a home floor advantage but will need more than that to stop the powerful Trojans.

Bangor lost to Nazareth in the first half and is in the underdog role again tonight. The Slayers are in a three-way tie for fifth place in the league, with East Stroudsburg and Wilson Boro. All have 1-2 second half records.

Stags Favored
Southern Wayne, knocked out of the first half title in a play-off game with Lake Ariel Monday, has posted one victory in the second half and is not expected to have too much trouble getting its second tonight.

At least one team will be dropped for the three-way first place tie in the Pocono Mountain loop tonight.

Barrett, Delaware Valley and Pleasant Valley share the lead but Barrett and Delaware Valley bump heads tonight.

Pleasant Valley faces the defending champion Tobyhanna Twp. and winless Coolbaugh, which has lost 10 straight, six of them in the league, has its best chance to break the string. It entertains Pocono Twp. which has posted only one league win.

In last year's tournament of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics, Tennessee State was seeded No. 1 but lost in the semifinals and Southern Illinois, seeded third, was knocked out in the first round by unheralded Oklahoma Baptist.

Westminster (Pa.) is on a hot streak. It has won 11 of 13 games, the two losses having been at the hands of Geneva.

Mansfield Beaton
Still unbeaten in NAIA (N.A.A.A.) games were Prairie View (Tex.) A&M (17-0) and Mansfield (Pa.) State (10-0).

Teams defeated only once are Arkansas Tech, Oglethorpe (Ga.), Defiance (Ohio) and Northern Michigan.

John Bradley of Lawrence (Mich.) Tech raised his individual scoring lead last week to 33.1 per game. Gene Velloff of Doane (Neb.) was next at 32.5 and Dennis Butcher of Pikeville (Ky.) third at 30.1.

The best average for field goal shooting was the .645 of Cleveland Buckner of Jackson (Miss.) State.

John Armstrong of Sterling (Kan.) held the lead in the free throw attempts department with a conversion average of .917. The perennial rebounding leader—Zelmo Beaty of Prairie View—was still on top with a 22.8 average.

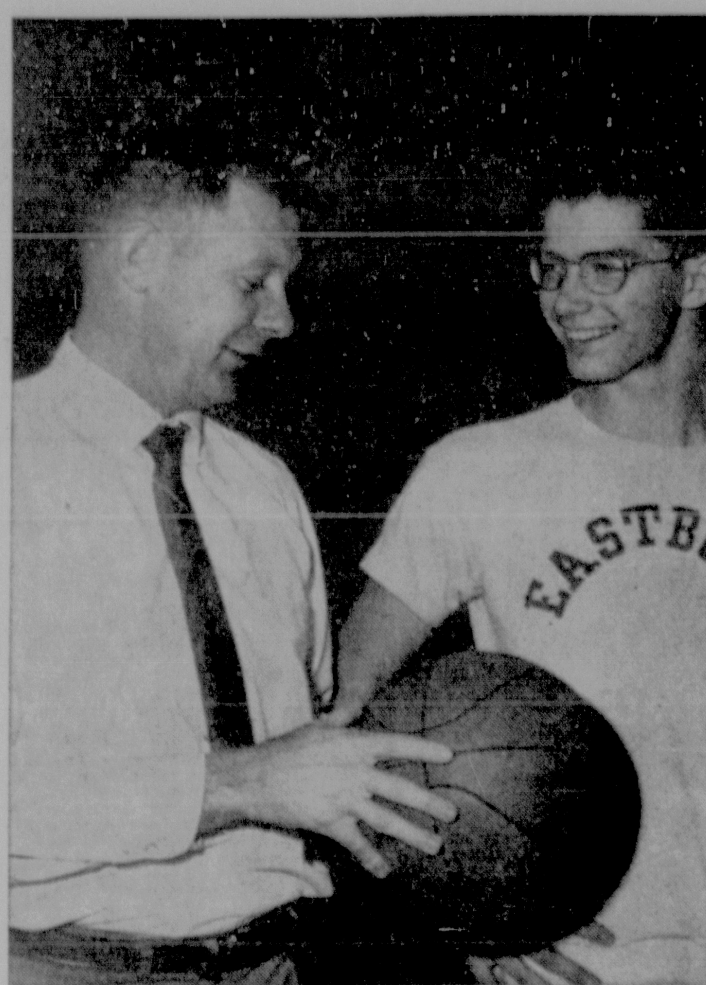

147—Jerry Wright (B) declined Hugh Lawrence, 9-5.

157—Dave Sturdivant (B) pinned Pat Rock, 4-25, double arm bar.

167—Gene Dixon (B) declined Mel Williams, 12-0.

177—Don Potts (B) pinned Jan Bollevan, 2-14, body press.

187—Bill Garson (B) pinned Ron Matakis, 1-50, arm bar.

BRITE STAR—Don Wescott of East Stroudsburg High School, earned this week's Brite Star award for his play in helping the Cavaliers break a 13-game losing streak. Wescott scored 12 points, led the team in rebounding, and made several steals, as East Stroudsburg beat Bangor 54-43. Ed Luck of Tobyhanna Twp. High was picked as last week's Brite Star but there was no picture of Luck available. He scored 41 points to set a Pocono Mountain Scholastic League record. (Staff Photo by MacLeod)

Thomas Opens Campaign To Bring Back Title Tonight

In 1960 John Thomas, who had been aiming at world records every time he competed, was beaten in the Olympic high jump, the Pittsburgh Pirates won the World Series, the underdog U.S. team won the Olympic hockey title, Floyd Patterson knocked out Ingemar Johansson and Italy knocked the United States out of the Davis Cup competition.

All these events were regarded as astounding upsets when they took place. After sober second thought, the nation's sports writers and broadcasters Friday picked Thomas' defeat as the No. 1 upset of the year by the narrowest of margins over the Pirates' victory.

Thought Unbeatable
Thomas was regarded as virtually unbeatable before the Olympics. He had made seven foot jumps seem commonplace. He hadn't been beaten since his high school days and in the Olympic tryouts he had cleared an incredible 7-3 1/2. But under the pressure of Olympic competition Thomas only went a quarter-inch over the seven-foot mark and placed third behind two Russians. The winning height was 7-1, which Thomas had beaten many times.

The Pirates had been rated as a probable fourth-place team before the 1960 baseball season started and even after they won the National League pennant few observers thought they had a chance to beat the power-packed New York Yankees. But when the showdown came it was the Pirates and Bill Mazeroski's ninth-inning homer in the final that won the world championship.

The experts voting in the Associated Press year-end poll rated those two upsets as almost equal. Even listed three upsets in order and the scoring on a 3-2-1 point basis gave Thomas' defeat 124 points to 120 for the Pirates' victory. On first place votes alone it was 28-27 in favor of the series upset.

Cup Star's Ban May Be Extended

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The Amateur Rules Committee of the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association recommended Thursday that the suspension of Charles (Chuck) McKinley, Davis Cup star, be extended to May 1 and that Dennis Ralston, another Davis Cup member, be placed on probation for the duration of this year.

The recommendation goes to the Executive Committee for action Friday night.

McKinley, of St. Louis, has been under temporary suspension for tossing a racket into the stands in the interzone finals last December at Perth, Australia.

No action against Ralston, 18-year-old co-doubles champion of Wimbledon, had been taken until Thursday. Don Hobart, chairman of the Amateur Rules Committee, said the action against Ralston was taken because of bad conduct over a series of tournaments last year.

McKinley and Ralston are top candidates for the U.S. Davis Cup team of 1961, now that Barry McKay and Earl (Butch) Bucholz have turned professional.

Earlier Thursday, the USLTA made another move toward ending its long cold war with the professionals and approving open tournaments.

A special committee headed by Perry Jones of Los Angeles, former Davis Cup captain, decided after a bitter closed-session battle to submit a pro-open recommendation to the USLTA's Executive Committee.

The Executive Committee, policy-making arm of the organization, meets Friday night. The general meeting is scheduled Saturday.

Members of the open tennis committee were sworn to secrecy, but it was learned unofficially that the group favored a trial run of open competition.

Bonnies Stop Bradley 75-61

NEW YORK (AP)—St. Bonaventure's second-ranked Bonnies, a gang of basketball pickpockets, unnerved third-ranked Bradley with one theft after another Thursday night and crushed the Braves 75-61 for their seventh straight victory and 16th in 17 games.

Tom Stith as usual, was the Bonnies' sharpshooter with 27 points but it was the incredible ball-hawking of Whitey Martin, Orrie Jirele and Fred Crawford that made the difference in this neutral court showdown between the chief challengers to unbeaten, top-ranked Ohio State.

Pirates' Win Picked Second Thomas' Olympic Defeat Called Year's Top Upset

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—John Thomas, abruptly shoved into the background by an 18-year-old Russian, begins his campaign to regain recognition as the world's best indoor high jumper Friday night in the Milwaukee Games.

Only last week, Valery Brumel roared 7 feet, 4 1/2 inches in Leningrad—the highest jump ever, indoors or outdoors, Thomas' recognized world mark is 7-3 1/2. Last week, the gangling Boston University junior cleared 7-3, a half inch more than his previous indoor best.

Whether he is ready to go all out is problematical. Ed Flanagan, his coach, has been bringing him along in stages with the idea of hitting his peak three weeks from now in the national AAU championships. Perhaps Brumel's performance has changed his mind.

Not Whole Show
But Thomas won't be the whole show. There are Olympics by the carload in the meet, and two other world indoor marks are in danger. Istvan Rozsavyi, the spindly, 32-year-old Hungarian, is taking aim at Ron Delany's 4:01.4 mile mark in the Wanamaker mile. It was Rosy who chased Delany to the mile record. In that race, Rosy was caught in 4:01.8. He has been working out less than a week, so he may not yet be in shape. But he'll have to move if he hopes to beat Ernie Cunliffe, the Stanford graduate, who set a world indoor standard of 2:07.9 for the 1,000-yard run last week in the Boston AA Games.

Other threats are Jim Grele, the National AA 1,300-meter champion, and Deacon Jones, two-time Olympic steeplechaser, from Fort Lee, Va.

While not quite so glamorous as the individual events, the world indoor two-mile relay record of 7:33.9, set 19 years ago by Seton Hall on a nine-lap track (faster than Madison Square Garden's 11 laps), could fall.

Manhattan Coach George Eastman is taking aim on the record. But the Jaspers will have to step to beat down quartets like Villanova, Yale and New York University.

Warriors Broke Record Against Good Team

IT WAS NOT a patsy that East Stroudsburg State College set a school scoring record against Wednesday night.

The Warriors topped Philadelphia Textile Institute 108-93, breaking the old mark of 102 set against Trenton in the 1956-57 season.

Textile was a well-drilled club, although a bit weak on defense and short on height.

Tuesday night Textile slammed Wilkes by 20 points and earlier in the season, the Philadelphia club beat King's College 115-110 on King's court.

It took the Warriors' best shooting night in two years and a 30 for 42 performance from the foul line, not just to break the record but to beat Textile. East Stroudsburg collected only one more field goal than Textile. East Stroudsburg hit an amazing 61.9 per cent of its field goals.

And after watching Textile's Julius Johnson perform, it's hard to imagine how the big school missed him, particularly the Philadelphia ones.

How Did Big Schools Miss Johnson?

Johnson, who is only a freshman, hit 39 points, blocked a handful of shots and although his team got only a few rebounds, the 6-3 Johnson, hauled in most of them. Once he got the ball in the pivot, it was impossible for a single defender to stop him and at times he broke away from three men to score.

A conservative opinion would be that Johnson is the best visiting player to appear at Normal Hill in several years.

There is a chance that East Stroudsburg State will play Springfield College (Mass.) in football in 1962.

Warrior coach Jack Gregory has also tried to book a game with Albright but Albright is not interested.

How many of the people who voted against a harness racing track in Monroe County last year are complaining about the proposed gas tax, local wage tax and the flood control bond issue? Some of these taxes might not have been necessary if the track was approved.

At Monticello Raceway last year, which is just one of many New York State tracks, $1,468,248.96 was turned over to the state government. Much of the money went for schools and highway improvement.

Florida Uses Track Money For Scholarships

And money collected by the State of Florida from its track is used to provide scholarships at state colleges.

Gary Player, the young South African, who won the International Golf Tournament in San Francisco last week, bought a high-priced automobile when he was playing in the Greensboro Open last year, but the car had no windshield wipers.

"It never rains on the golf course," said Player, "to a reporter who asked about the lack of blades."

It turned out that the automobile dealer had forgotten to put on the wipers and Player was waiting for the end of the tourney, to have them replaced.

Bloom Wrestlers Score 26-10 Win Over East Stroudsburg

BLOOMSBURG State College wrestlers spotted East Stroudsburg State a 10-0 lead at Normal Hill last night and then captured six straight events, to post a 26-10 win.

Tom Gleason at 123 pounds and Ken Nickischer, 130, were the only Warrior winners.

Gleason pinned Joel Melitski in 6:32 of the opening bout with a headlock.

Dislocated Shoulder
Gleason was ineligible the first semester, because of scholastic difficulty. He dropped his first bout of the new semester last week.

Nickischer, who has a 6-1 record now, won by default over Bill Hughes, the defending National Intercollegiate Athletic Assn. 123-pound champion.

Nickischer slammed Hughes to the mat soon after the bout opened and Hughes' left shoulder was dislocated. He was taken to Monroe County General Hospital.

Bloom won four of its six decisions by pins, including a 1:50 pin by Bill Garson in the heavyweight.

Bloomsburg won the JV match 38-0.

East Stroudsburg, 3-4 now, wrestles at CCNY Saturday.

123 pounds—Tom Gleason (ESSC) pinned Joel Melitski 6:32, headlock.

130 pounds—Ken Nickischer (ESSC) won by default over Bill Hughes.

157—Rich Seese (B) pinned Stan Woods, 8:26, body press.

Give Them An Inch

Dear Abby: My daughter is 15 and her boy friend is 16. They are "going steady."

I don't object to his making himself at home here, but I think he is overdoing it. He takes off his "shoes," and even his shirt, in my living room. He goes to the refrigerator and helps himself whenever he feels like it.

I don't want to be an old stick-in-the-mud, but is this the way all teen-agers act? If so, I'll keep quiet. If not, I would like to call it a halt. Please advise me.

TEEN-AGER'S MOTHER

Dear Mother: No well-bred teen-ager (or adult, for that matter) goes to the refrigerator and helps himself. Most teen-agers DO take off their shoes, but I would certainly tell the young man to keep his shirt on.

Dear Abby: My husband and I took a trip two years ago. While traveling, we met a very nice Australian couple. We exchanged Christmas cards and that was the extent of our friendship.

We just received a letter from them telling us they are naming us "godparents" for their newborn son. I thought godparents had to be present at the christening. Does this mean we have to

Lions Hear Talks On Deer, Jazz

STROUDSBURG Lions at their dinner meeting in the Penn-Stroud Tuesday night heard a double-barrelled speaking program. John G. Valence of Barrett Township explained the work being done at present to provide food for deer and other animals faced with starvation because of the Arctic Winter. Elbert Smith of the steward's department at Tobyhanna Signal Depot spoke on jazz music. He spoke as an expert, gave a history of syncopation, analyzed its evolution and illustrated his talk with records of appropriate music.

Zone Chairman John Regan stated that this region will have a hospital room at the coming Harrisburg state convention and a roster was prepared of local Lions planning to attend the annual international convention at Atlantic City.

The annual attendance contest will open at the Feb. 14 meeting. Valence in his brief talk told of the rigors to which the cold and the deep snow have subjected the deer and other animals and explained the means taken by sportsmen of the Barrett section and helpers to provide food. These citizens have established depots of hay and other food at central points in Barrett and have given supplies to interested friends of wildlife who take them into the woods and make them available to the animals.

Smith's broadcast of his illustrative numbers was made by a unique electrically operated broadcaster with two speakers so designed that the hearer instinctively listens with both ears.

The speaker emphasized that jazz is a distinctively American contribution to music. He said that all other forms of our cultural heritage came from Europe and that the first seeds of the newer type may be traced to 1619 when negroes were first brought to this country to be sold as slave labor. These native Africans had only rhythm-music, expressed mainly in tribal chant and from this remote beginning jazz arose.

It early appealed to the French of New Orleans. He told of the many variants that have sprung up under the syncopated measure and enumerated the early blues, Dixieland jazz, boogie-woogie, the sugarfoot.

He stressed the difference between rock and roll.

GM Sales Hit Record

GENERAL MOTORS Corp. achieved record sales in 1960, while earnings were second only to those in 1955.

John F. Gordon, president, disclosed the preliminary results yesterday. Last year GM had sales of $12,700,000,000 compared with $11,230,000,000 in 1959.

The previous record was $12,443,000,000 in 1955.

Estimated earnings for 1960 were $950,000,000 equal to $3.35 a share of which $2 was paid in dividend and $1.35 retained for use in the business.

The 1959 earnings amounted to $873,100,000 or $3.06 a share.

SHIPS THAT PASSED IN THE NIGHT
Dear Ships: It is. They have. And you should. (Diplomatically.)

Dear Abby: Why do mothers of babies who are not able to talk insist on putting their little darlings on the phone when people call to talk to their parents?

They will say, "Want to talk to Billy?" and before you know it, Billy is screaming into the phone. You are forced to talk baby talk and coo to him while the mother tries in vain to get him to say "Coo-dee" or "Hi" or something, while you just sit patiently and wait for it all to end.

Many of my friends are guilty of this boring habit and you'd be doing a public service to wake them up.

21.3 Per Cent Blue Shield Rates Increase Approved

HARRISBURG (AP)—An overall increase of 21.3 per cent in rates charged by the Medical Service Association of Pennsylvania (Blue Shield) was approved Thursday by the State Insurance Commission.

The association, which now has revenues totaling about $46 million per year, would receive an estimated $10 million annually under the new rates.

An Insurance Commission spokesman said the increases were effective immediately as far as the commission was concerned but it probably would take the association a month or two to put them into effect.

Six More Weeks Of Winter Seen

QUARRYVILLE, Pa. (AP)—The consensus of experts is that the groundhog saw his shadow Thursday. That means six more weeks of one of the worst winters much of the country has known for many years—so goes the folk-belief.

As in olden times men sought to learn their fate from the movements of dogs, birds or snakes, so in this more enlightened age they go out on Feb. 2, and spy on the groundhog to get weather forecasts.

If the groundhog spots his shadow that's bad news of a prolonged winter. If he doesn't, spring is supposed to be practically at the gates.

From this Lancaster County stronghold of magic and make-believe to Gobbler's Knob in Punxsutawney, from Philadelphia to the Lehigh and Panther Valleys, Pennsylvania's groundhog turned out in jolly numbers.

Had Difficulty

Reports were made that the groundhog had difficulty getting out of his frozen hole but as the chill sunlight fell aslant the snow and ice the shaggy fellow sighted his silhouette. One specialist said the shadow shimmered as much as the groundhog himself, and all but beat him back down the hole.

As usual and especially in the Quarryville orbit, the day's doings were highlighted by gags and gimmicks, manifestos and monkey-shines generally.

No ordinary garb serves Quarryville's purpose. Members of the slumbering lodge put on outlandish lives, —tall silk hats, white robes and even grass skirts this time, in honor of Hawaii's admission to the union. The hula skirts had to be worn over greatcoats, of course, and this somewhat cramped the boys' undulating style.

On Gobbler's Knob, Punxsutawney Phil—the inheritor of the late Punxsutawney Pete — appeared dutifully, and in moments his devotees spread the dismal word about winter's tenacity.

Since Pennsylvania is the fount of most ground hog lore and is its chief practitioner, it was fitting that a Pennsylvania congressman should rise in the House in Washington and tell the tidings of fact.

Rep. Leon H. Gavin, a Republican put it crisply:

"Put another log on the fire and turn up the thermostat."

Washingtonians and others were told also that when the groundhog poked out of his hole at Quarryville he made sounds with a Boston accent and sports a diploma from Harvard under his stubby chin.

"How else can you get by these days," as a quote attributed to him by Robert Herr, a potentate of the slumbering lodge.

Hails JFK's Actions On The Podium

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

Just what President Kennedy's news conferences were beginning to threaten the morning and evening coffee breaks with serious competition, there has been a change of signals.

Perhaps as an experiment with audience appreciation, perhaps for other reasons, the next conference will not be televised and broadcast "live" but will be taped for later showings.

The hours of 4 p.m. and 10 a.m. which are the most responsible for the conferences are when few except housewives can watch, and many of them shop.

For those who could watch, however, Kennedy was rapidly approaching a stardom which he may not attain on cold film.

There's something about watching him stand there and knowing that he's battling those lank front of your eyes, which could be lost in watching recordings.

So far as news conferences are concerned, Kennedy's first two news conferences have outdistanced anything like them before. He walks to the podium like a man who is just off a fast express, and immediately endears himself with the news corps by tossing out two of three brand new headlines. The air of hurry vanishes, and as the questions flow you are amazed by the man's vast range of detailed knowledge about current topics.

Moves To Break Racial Barrier

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — The North Carolina Council of Churches Wednesday called on churches of the state and the General Assembly to take steps to break down racial barriers.

The council unanimously adopted a resolution for its human relations committee, calling "upon all the churches of North Carolina to consider, prayerfully and without delay, following the example of those churches in our state which have opened their doors to all persons."

The resolution was adopted by a vote of 10-0. The committee called "upon all the churches of North Carolina to consider, prayerfully and without delay, following the example of those churches in our state which have opened their doors to all persons."

The commissioner said the increase will be sufficient to offset an increased utilization of benefits and to enable Blue Shield to restore its dwindling reserve fund.

Smith said the increase is estimated to build the fund to an amount equal to three months of claims within the next four years. Under the new schedule, monthly rates for families with group coverage would range from $3.83 to $6.07 and range from $1.56 to $1.88 for single persons. Nongroup rates would range from $3.88 to $6.11 for families and from $1.31 to $1.93 for single persons.

Old Schedule

Under the old rate schedule monthly rates for families with group coverage ranged from $3.25 to $4.60 and from $1.10 to $1.45 for single persons, nongroup rates went from $3.65 to $5.15 for families and from $1.20 to $1.60 for single persons.

Smith told the organization it should consider the feasibility of extending full service benefits to a greater number of persons.

He rejected a Blue Shield proposal to provide coverage for persons over 65 who were not previously protected. He said the proposed senior citizen coverage would have been the same as a standard nongroup plan but it proposed higher premiums.
